

Gift Ideas for that someone that may need a little extra organizing help

There is always at least one person in the family who is messy and disorganized. In my family, that person is me. As a frequently disorganized person, I speak for all messy people when I say that we don't mean to be so messy. Sometimes we just don't know how to become more organized.

So, if a loved one in your life isn't the tidiest person in the world, my suggestion would be to get them one of these passive-aggressive "kidding but not" get-yourself-together-and-get-organized gifts. Who knows – it may spark a new cleaning spree.

1. Grocery and Meal Planner

Giving somebody this gift allows them to properly plan out their meals for the week, along with the groceries they'll need. By deciding these things ahead of time, the stress you feel about figuring out what to eat for dinner will no longer be a thing.

2. Bluetooth Tracking Tag

Keep easy-to-misplace items on your radar with this Bluetooth-powered rosewood tag and companion app.

3. Battery Organizer

This brilliantly simple product holds up to 82 different size batteries and includes a battery tester.

4. Life Changing Magic of Tidying Up Book

The Japanese Art of decluttering and organizing is the perfect type of passive-aggressive gift you can get for that messy person you know.

5. Tea Stand Tea Bag Organizer

Tea Stand is the only cabinet organizer for tea bags! Store 100+ tea bags in the dark, dry cabinet to protect flavors and eliminate box clutter. Measuring just over 5 inches (13,0 cm) wide, the sleek, lightweight design is easy to grab and move anywhere.

6. Multi-Device Charging Station

Charging all your devices in one place allows less chargers you must keep track of, and helps you keep all of your devices together instead of charging them at different places all over the house.

7. Stackable Lunch Pot

These durable bins save space, keep your lunch options organized and decrease your chances of spillage.

8. Expandable Dish Rack

Help eliminate a messy kitchen with this dish rack that expands as far as you want it to go. With a removable steel rack, you can organize your dishes as they dry in any way you'd like.

9. Toy Hammock

If you have kids who are known to leave their toys all around the house, this hammock is a simple solution for a cluttered floor. Install the hammock low enough for them to reach it and they can get/put away toys all by themselves.

10. Closet Double Clothing Rack

I have one of these racks hanging in my closet and it is a lifesaver. Just simply hang the rack up and you instantly have another place to put all your clothes.

11. Refrigerator Shelves

These easy to install shelves instantly add extra space to your fridge, and their transparency allows you to see exactly what is in which drawer.

12. Wall Wine Bar

Amaze your guests with a fancy wine bar without taking up any counter space. This wine bar goes onto your wall and even includes glass racks for up to 6 wine glasses.

13. Carousel Utensil Set

Never wonder where your kitchen utensils went again with this unique carousel set. Designed to take up a minimal amount of counter space, it also helps keep your kitchen as organized as possible. (Utensils are included.)

14. Closet Boot Stand

Everybody has or at least is familiar with shoe rack organizers, but the slots that your shoes are supposed to go in are usually too small for boots. If you're like me and own several pairs of boots, this organizer will be perfect.

15. Lid Organizer

When organizing your pots and pans in the kitchen, people usually tend to forget about the lids, and just stack them the best they can. This organizer solves that problem and takes up no extra space in your cabinets.

16. Days of The Week File Folders

Keep your office organized with these files folders, labeled for the days of the week. If you know you have a lot on your plate for a certain week, break down your tasks with the help of these folders.

17. Closet Hangers

After you've organized all your clothes, don't forget about the accessories! This handy hanger can be used to hang up your ties, scarfs, belts, etc.

18. Mom's Manager Calendar

Know a mom who could use a personal secretary? This calendar is the closest thing to it, as it has a large grid and options to write down the schedules of each family member individually. Plus, it comes with stickers.

19. Cleaning and Mopping Shoes

Kill two birds with one stone by wearing these shoes while you walk around your kitchen, and it'll be the easiest way to clean the floor.
